

R. R. OPERATORS
TALK OF STRIKE
ON RIO GRANDE

IN CONSEQUENCE OF REFUSAL TO REINSTATE WIRE
CHIEF.

BALLOT TAKEN BY MAIL

Discharged Man Because He Refused to Test Any Western Union Telegraph Lines.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 17.—Operators employed on the Denver and Rio Grande railroad have been taking a ballot by mail on the question that they shall strike in consequence of the refusal of the company to reinstate R. H. Skeggs, former wire chief at Grand Junction, Colo., who was discharged when he refused to test Western Union wires. It is reported that the votes already received are practically unanimous for striking. About 400 operators are employed on the road and 95 per cent of them belong to the Order of Railway Telegraphers. H. B. Perham, national president of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, issued a statement on the Skeggs case in answer to the statement made by General Manager Charles H. Schlaacks of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad. President Perham holds that Skeggs was justified in refusing to test a Western Union wire when ordered to do the work by C. M. Walker, superintendent of telegraph on the railroad, as the order was irregular and Superintendent Walker "well knew that such duty properly belonged to the Western Union wire chief at Salt Lake, but deliberately issued the order, apparently with the object of raising a question that will cause considerable commotion before it is settled."

It is predicted by Denver and Rio Grande operators that if the vote they are now taking on the question of striking is favorable the strike will quickly spread to all railroads in the Gould system, involving over 15,000 operators.

SWEET MARIE
BREAKS RECORD
AT ALLENTOWN

Allentown, Pa., Oct. 17.—Two world's trotting records were broken on the Allentown fair track before 10,000 persons. In the match race for $5,000 between Sweet Marie and Major Delmar, best two in three heats, the fleet mare won in straight heats and incidentally broke the half mile track world's record for a regular one mile race. Her best time was 2:08, made in the second heat, beating the former record of 2:09 3-4, held by Dandy Jim. Sweet Marie's time in the first heat was 5:10. The other record was made by George G. this season's unbeaten trotter, which paced by a runner broke the world's half mile track record for an exhibition mile. His time was 2:06 3-4.

Nobleman at Liberty.
San Francisco, Oct. 17.—After seven years of hard servitude in San Quentin penitentiary, Simon Munckeros von Vetzera, scion of a noble Austrian family, and a notorious footpad, who terrorized San Francisco and the suburban towns in the spring of 1900, has been freed through the instrumentality of the Austrian government.

PROFESSOR SAYS
GIRLS SHOULD DO
OWN HOUSEWORK

Cleveland, Oct. 17.—Dr. Herbert A. Atkins of the College for Women, is teaching ethics and practical housekeeping to his class of young women. "Girls should start washing their own and their parents' clothes at the age of twelve years," said the doctor. "The girls of the present generation are altogether too delicate and are not sufficiently helpful to their husbands."

"If they started to wash early in life their constitutions would become hardened and they would not mind doing the family washing in after years. The evil of the present age is maids. A wife should do all the housework, alone, even the baking of bread."

One of the girls in the classroom took issue with the doctor. A lively debate followed. The doctor maintained his stand vigorously.

Southern Europe was swept by a severe rainstorm, causing great distress.

STIFF DEFENSE
To Be Put Up by the Standard in the Federal Suit.

New York, Oct. 17.—Counsel for the Standard Oil company have prepared an elaborate defense in the government's suit for dissolution of the oil combine, which they say will be developed in its entirety. The government's attorneys have concluded taking their testimony. The Standard's lawyers said that they had not sought to adduce testimony on cross-examination of officials and employees of the so-called oil trust which would refute the allegations in the federal complaint, but had deferred in bringing out much evidence until later, when it could be produced continuously and in bulk.

Frank B. Kellogg, counsel for the United States, spent the entire day in placing on the record statements submitted by several witnesses showing the profits made by the Standard in the different localities of the country. Statements were produced showing that the Standard not only secured information concerning competitive shipments in the United States, but in foreign countries.

CHINK SHOT.
Merchant the Target for a Fusillade
in a Chicago Street.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—Chia Wai, a Chinese merchant, was made the target for a fusillade of shots by another Chinaman while walking in Clark street near Van Buren street. Seven bullets struck Wai and another wounded a bystander slightly. The shooting is believed to be the result of the recent formation of a league of Chinese merchants for protection against a so-called "highlanders" society. Chia is said to be in a critical condition.

OSLER ASSISTS.
Crusade Is Inaugurated in Ireland
Against Consumption.

London, Oct. 17.—Advices from Dublin state that Dr. Osler, who is a guest in the viceregal lodge there, is taking an active interest in the campaign which Lady Aberdeen inaugurated against consumption in Ireland. He lectured to a crowded audience in connection with the opening of the tuberculosis exhibition, saying: "You always think of New York as a hotbed of political tyranny and all that," he said, "and yet those very politicians have done a remarkable work in backing up the health authorities. This crusade in New York is a model one for the world. Those in the fight are politicians of Tammany Hall, who are largely Irishmen, and they deserve the greatest credit for what they have done."

Negro Brute Held.
Richmond, Va., Oct. 17.—John Basse, a negro, who attacked Mrs. Ferrell and her daughter in the streets of Danville, and his brother-in-law, William Henderson, were arrested before the hounds put on their trail came up with them. There was danger of lynching for a while, but it is passed.

Sues for Divorce.
London, Oct. 17.—Social circles here were surprised by the appearance in the divorce court of Sir Merrick Burrell, who asked for and obtained a divorce from his wife, Wilhelmina, daughter of Walter Winans, formerly of Baltimore, Md. Captain Henry King, of the Royal Horse Guards, was named as correspondent.

San Francisco, Oct. 17.—Superintendent Miller of the Western Union Telegraph company, reports that seven striking telegraphers applied for their old positions. Five of them were given employment.

Statue of St. Catherine.
Paris, Oct. 17.—Marx Brothers, antiquaries, who sold the statue of St. Catherine to the Metropolitan museum of art in New York last May, while they are unable to account for the exact origin of the statue, are quite certain that it is not a product of the recent church robberies in France. M. Marx told a reporter that the firm had acquired the statue in August, 1905, from one of the best known dealers in Paris, who had purchased it from another dealer equally reputable. For the present he was not at liberty to give the names of these dealers, but he considered the character of the houses a sufficient guarantee that the statue had not been stolen.

Complaint Against Mexicans.
Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 17.—Oscar Lawler, United States district attorney, filed a complaint charging Villareal, Magon, Rivera and Delara, four Mexicans, who have been in jail here several weeks, with violation of the neutrality laws. The Mexicans are accused of being revolutionists and instigators of a movement to invade Mexico with armed forces to overthrow the republic. Mr. Lawler asked the court for an order of removal to the jurisdiction of the United States district court in Arizona. It is said a much stronger case against the four men can be made.

Wholesale price of spirits at Cincinnati was advanced 1 cent a gallon. The advance brings the basis price of a proof gallon of spirits up to $1.35 per gallon, minus the revenue duty. The price is the highest reached since the civil war.

ROOT RETURNS
FROM MEXICO
TALKS OF TRIP

SURPRISED TO FIND SO MANY AMERICANS ARE LOCATED THERE.

LADEN WITH RICH GIFTS

Secretary of State Comes to United States After a Thorough Inspection of Customs.

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 17.—Amidst a driving rainstorm Secretary of State Root and party arrived in San Antonio aboard the private car "Signet" attached to the northbound International and Great Northern passenger. During the brief time the party stopped in San Antonio, however, a committee from the International club waited upon the secretary at his car. Secretary Root, speaking of his visit to Mexico, said he was surprised to find so many Americans located in that country. The Root party is bringing home hundreds of gifts from Mexico, and among them is a handsome pottery vase for President Roosevelt.

In addition to the pottery there are books, drawnwork, laces and many other things of a costly nature. Secretary Root paid duty on everything at Laredo, though he declined to say how much. The party will make no stops between San Antonio and Washington.

Mr. Root said he thought the Americans in Mexico had had a great influence upon Mexico in the matter of Americanizing it. He thought President Diaz a man of wonderful breadth and power. "I was surprised," he went on, "at the remarkable success that Mexico has encountered in their efforts to educate the Indian. They have been far more successful than has the United States. At least it would seem the United States has had little success in the efforts to modernize the Yaquis."

ELEVATOR FELL

A DISTANCE OF FORTY FEET SEVERELY INJURING TWO MEN
AT ALEXANDRIA.

Clamp Holding the Cable Became Loosened and Allowed a Fall
From Third Floor.

Alexandria, Oct. 17.—On Wednesday evening a serious accident occurred at the W. D. Brooks & Company's dry goods store on Main street.

About 8:30 o'clock Mr. H. J. Carter, a member of the firm in company with his brother-in-law, Mr. Irvin Yost, of Thornville, entered an elevator used in the store and ascended to the third floor. Just as they were about to lock the elevator, the clamp holding the cable became loose and allowed the cable to slip out, dropping the elevator to the pit below, a distance of about 40 feet.

Mr. Yost was unconscious when taken from the pit and was removed to his home where an examination showed him to be seriously injured about the back and breast. Mr. Carter was badly bruised about the limbs and his hands were painfully burned by grasping the rope. Both men will be confined to their homes for several days, but it is not thought their injuries are dangerous.

Bridegroom Arrested.

Hot Springs, Ark., Oct. 17.—Following telegraphic instructions from St. Louis to Chief of Police Bentz, Daniel B. Brennan, Jr., who secretly married Miss Gertrude Busch, youngest daughter of the millionaire brewer in that city Monday night, was arrested here and will be held pending the arrival of his father, who, it is alleged, ordered the arrest. The reason for the arrest is not known. The young couple arrived here Tuesday and had intended to remain a few days and resume their journey to Mexico City.

ST. PIERRE IS RISING FROM ITS ASHES

THE SITE OF ST. PIERRE, OVERGROWN WITH SHRUBS AND GRASSES.

A LARGE BEAR
MADE HIS ESCAPE
FROM PRESIDENT

Stamboul, La., Oct. 17.—If President Roosevelt had been stationed a few hundred feet farther south than he was he would possibly have procured the bear he came to the Mississippi canebrakes to slay. That a fine specimen of the bear family was discovered by Holt Collier's dogs within a short distance of the president and within less than a mile of Bear Lake was the news brought into Stamboul by Brutus Jackson, one of the members of the hunting party, and he says that the animal was enabled to make good his escape by going in a direction opposite to the president's post.

Withdrawal Only Nominal.

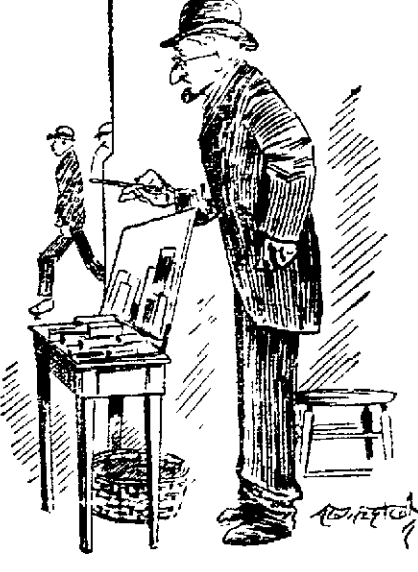

Houston, Texas, Oct. 17.—The Consumers' Oil company, reported from Austin as having withdrawn from Texas, only nominally did so. Its six mills in Texas and Arkansas, three in each state, were sold to Louis C. Ehle of Chicago. The mills are located at Houston, Waco, Greenville, Texas, and Little Rock, Forest City, Pine Bluff, Ark. John Bowles of Houston, the manager of the entire circuit, says the sale was made in Chicago. The price is unknown. The capacity of the mills is 120 tons each per day. The mills will continue in operation.

Treasurer Found Guilty.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—Hiram H. Leonard, former treasurer of the Evans-Snyder-Duell company, was found guilty of embezzlement by a jury in Judge Chetlain's court, the verdict carrying with it imprisonment in the penitentiary from one to ten years. The finding of the jury was that Leonard had embezzled $7,653. The indictment charged him with the embezzlement of $8,000. Evidence was introduced at the trial, however, to show that the total embezzlement would amount to $65,000. The money was lost in speculation.

SHOULD HANG
A LIBELER SAYS
PRES. ANDREWS

Washington, Oct. 17.—President E. Benjamin Andrews of the University of Nebraska, in addressing the fall convocation of the George Washington university here, bitterly denounced what he termed malicious and willful misrepresentation of the acts of public or prominent men by the press. Hanging, he said, should be the punishment meted out to a proved libeler. "None of the business villainies alleged to be so rife," he continued, "can compare in atrocity with these squalid campaigns of libel and libelous caricature which recent months have produced." Dr. Andrews said he did not care for the rich as such, but that the pride, idleness and doubtful practices of a few rich are no just cause for putting all rich men in the pillory.

Claims Payroll Is Stuffed.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—The Legislative Voters' league of this city has addressed an open letter to the Hon. Edward D. Shurtliff, speaker of the Illinois house of representatives calling attention to the "stuffing" of the house payroll. According to the letter the number of employees authorized by law is 11 whereas the number employed was 121 at the beginning of the 1907 session. "Many political harnacles," the letter says, "who rendered no equivalent in return for the pay were permitted to hold their places."

Grand Jury to Probe Case.

Houston, Texas, Oct. 17.—The alleged bribery case against a prominent architect here is being moved by the grand jury. County Judge American and all the members of commissioners' court appeared before the grand jury. It is stated a civil habeas was offered Commissioner J. W. Hobson, a member of the court, as reported by him to the grand jury. The blame attaches to any member of the court in the matter. The habeas was offered for the architect, who is held by the grand jury for the amount he was permitted to the county jail.

WRIGHT IN JAIL.

Mr. Vernon O. Wright, of O. Wright was arrested in Newark Tuesday afternoon by Sheriff Redman and brought to Mr. Vernon of the commission by Sheriff Redman. He is held on a charge of adultery. IS SHATTERED
FOR ONE MILE

The previous record was held by the elder Christie, who won in 52 seconds at Minneapolis Sept. 10. The setting of the new record was the feature of the closing day of the Alabama state fair.

State of Iron Market.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 17.—The pig iron market at present is like some football teams that are very strong on the defensive, but seldom score; that is, prices are being remarkably well maintained, in spite of the efforts of buyers to obtain concessions. Some business men are not enjoying present conditions, because of fear of the future. Considerable complaint is made about slow collections, but there is little evidence of real distress. The demand for steel-making iron in the Pittsburgh district shows marked improvement. Sales on a basis of $19.75 valley furnace have been made, while inquiries are pending for some 10,000 tons of Bessemer.

FILIPINOS HAVE NOTHING TO SAY
ON TAFT'S SPEECH

IN WHICH HE INTIMATES THAT THE ASSEMBLY WOULD BE DISSOLVED.

AT SIGN OF MISBEHAVIOR

Young Man Chosen President as the First Work of Convention—Taft Laud Natives.

Manila, Oct. 17.—The first business of the national assembly, which was opened by Secretary of War Taft, was the selection of a president, and Sergio Osmena, Nationalist, who formerly was governor of the island of Cebu, was chosen. Senor Osmena is a young man and had no part in the revolution. He is held in high esteem by the government and his own people. He was nominated by Manuel Quezon and seconded in an eloquent speech by Donador Gomez. All the assemblymen, including Senor Gomez, whose election is to be contested, were formally sworn in. The oath included acknowledgment of sovereignty and allegiance to the American government. Other business was the selection of a secretary. The delegates showed they had no understanding of parliamentary law and procedure. The principal feature of the session was an address by Senor Gomez, who declared against bringing politics into legislative business and asked the delegates to show their patriotism by forsaking party affiliations and legislating for the benefit of the Filipino people.

In his address to the assembly Mr. Taft said his views of two years ago regarding the independence of the Filipino people were unchanged. He did not believe that they would be fitted to govern themselves for at least a generation, but he added that the matter was entirely in the hands of congress. Mr. Taft denied emphatically that the United States had any intention of disposing of the islands, and said he had absolute confidence in the Filipinos. He asserted his belief that they felt their responsibility and acknowledged the necessity of supporting the American government.

Secretary Taft wanted to satisfy some of the American residents of Manila regarding the policy of the American government. The general impression is that this speech was placative. He intimated that misbehavior would result in the abolishment of the assembly, but it is declared that this contingency is not expected. As for the Filipinos, they expressed no opinion of Mr. Taft's speech one way or the other.

ARMY RIDING TEST.

How Fifteen Mile Trip For Officers Is Regarded.

RETIRING BOARDS FEARED.

Rough Riding Order May Have Been Merely the President's Whim, Says a Friend, but It May Help Younger Men on General Staff by Early Promotions.

All of the army officers of field grade, both of line and staff, who are stationed in the neighborhood of New York and elsewhere in General Grant's department of the east are to go to Washington this month to submit to the physical test of fifteen miles of hard riding on a horse, as ordered by the president, says the New York Post. Nobody above the rank of captain will be allowed to escape the ride or the ruling of a surgeon that he is physically unfit to take it. For obvious reasons army officers dread either fate.

A man who is qualified in three ways to discuss the matter—he is a friend of the president, an intimate acquaintance of many officers and an enthusiastic rider himself—said recently that the order was about as unjust as could be imagined.

"It was," he said, "merely a whim with the president at first, but I believe that it has now developed into a shrewd move on the part of the general staff to make way for promotions by ridding the army of men who are thoroughly capable and fit for the work they are doing, but are too old to do spectacular athletic stunts in rough riding."

"As the suggestion was originally made by the president it applied only to the officers of the line, but the general staff went him one better and made the order comprehensive enough to include the staff officers. The president no doubt approved their amendment, otherwise we wouldn't have the situation as it now is. The general staff is made up very largely of young men. To claim for them that they didn't realize that their action might put many of their seniors on the retired list would be to charge them with stupidity of a very dense variety."

"The plan, even in its original application to line officers only, was unreasonable and unnecessary and absolutely without precedent in the history of the army. But, as I said before, I think it was the result of a whim, put into effect without any deliberation as to results."

"President Roosevelt is very impulsive. He was a weakling, physically, when he was a boy and went west to be built up. The process was successful. Among other heroic things he did was to go rough riding with the cowboys. It undoubtedly did him worlds of good, and he still loves to jump into the saddle and ride hard. So because it benefits him and because he likes to do it he thinks that all men ought to do it. That is a great mistake—another case of acting on impulse."

"All army officers may yet be ordered to develop a certain degree of proficiency in tennis or kill a given number of bears as an mark to promotion or qualify as essential to promotion at mountainous. The dangers and possibilities seem almost limitless."

"But let us consider this thing seriously, first with reference to officers of the line. We may pass over the cavalry and light artillery, for in those arms of the service hard riding is merely incidental to the daily work not only of the field officers, but of the captains and lieutenants. Excellent horsemanship is required of them as a matter of course."

"With the infantry it is another story. Until he attains field rank an officer of infantry never has any opportunity to ride. Of course all the officers have learned to ride in their cadet days at West Point, and there, theoretically at least, all had the same opportunities in the saddle. But even there that isn't actually so. Good riding qualities develop in some youngsters and not in others, and the average cadet knows long before he gets his first commission whether he wants to be a cavalryman or an engineer, an officer of infantry or of artillery, and very naturally he has the most interest and enthusiasm in that part of his cadet work that leads particularly to the branch of the service which he hopes to get into. But the day that a class is graduated from the academy all equality of opportunity for riding, real or theoretical, ends for good."

"Through all the years that an infantry officer is a second lieutenant, lieutenant and captain he must march afoot with his men. Then he becomes a field officer and for the sake of convenience is mounted. But the pace at which he will go is governed by the marching ability of foot troops. His service will never require any very strenuous riding."

"Take a colonel of infantry, for instance, a man somewhat heavy and in a little advanced in years. He can sit in the saddle all day and move with his command, but he can't jump hurdles or ride like a charging dragoon for fifteen miles. That would kill him."

"General Shafter weighed 300 pounds. Down in Cuba they had to lift him into his saddle, but lack of agility on his part did not prevent the army and the public from making a hero of him. Fortunately, there is no man in the army today so heavy as Shafter was, but there are many who have outgrown their rough riding days."

"It is difficult to imagine when officers of coast artillery, who are of course included in this test, will ever have to ride. They will certainly never have to dash about their fortifications like rough riders charging up a hill."

"It was," he said, "merely a whim with the president at first, but I believe that it has now developed into a shrewd move on the part of the general staff to make way for promotions by ridding the army of men who are thoroughly capable and fit for the work they are doing, but are too old to do spectacular athletic stunts in rough riding."

"General Shafter weighed 300 pounds. Down in Cuba they had to lift him into his saddle, but lack of agility on his part did not prevent the army and the public from making a hero of him. Fortunately, there is no man in the army today so heavy as Shafter was, but there are many who have outgrown their rough riding days."

"It is difficult to imagine when officers of coast artillery, who are of course included in this test, will ever have to ride. They will certainly never have to dash about their fortifications like rough riders charging up a hill."

"It was," he said, "merely a whim with the president at first, but I believe that it has now developed into a shrewd move on the part of the general staff to make way for promotions by ridding the army of men who are thoroughly capable and fit for the work they are doing, but are too old to do spectacular athletic stunts in rough riding."

"As the suggestion was originally made by the president it applied only to the officers of the line, but the general staff went him one better and made the order comprehensive enough to include the staff officers. The president no doubt approved their amendment, otherwise we wouldn't have the situation as it now is. The general staff is made up very largely of young men. To claim for them that they didn't realize that their action might put many of their seniors on the retired list would be to charge them with stupidity of a very dense variety."

"The plan, even in its original application to line officers only, was unreasonable and unnecessary and absolutely without precedent in the history of the army. But, as I said before, I think it was the result of a whim, put into effect without any deliberation as to results."

"President Roosevelt is very impulsive. He was a weakling, physically, when he was a boy and went west to be built up. The process was successful. Among other heroic things he did was to go rough riding with the cowboys. It undoubtedly did him worlds of good, and he still loves to jump into the saddle and ride hard. So because it benefits him and because he likes to do it he thinks that all men ought to do it. That is a great mistake—another case of acting on impulse."

"All army officers may yet be ordered to develop a certain degree of proficiency in tennis or kill a given number of bears as an mark to promotion or qualify as essential to promotion at mountainous. The dangers and possibilities seem almost limitless."

"But let us consider this thing seriously, first with reference to officers of the line. We may pass over the cavalry and light artillery, for in those arms of the service hard riding is merely incidental to the daily work not only of the field officers, but of the captains and lieutenants. Excellent horsemanship is required of them as a matter of course."

"With the infantry it is another story. Until he attains field rank an officer of infantry never has any opportunity to ride. Of course all the officers have learned to ride in their cadet days at West Point, and there, theoretically at least, all had the same opportunities in the saddle. But even there that isn't actually so. Good riding qualities develop in some youngsters and not in others, and the average cadet knows long before he gets his first commission whether he wants to be a cavalryman or an engineer, an officer of infantry or of artillery, and very naturally he has the most interest and enthusiasm in that part of his cadet work that leads particularly to the branch of the service which he hopes to get into. But the day that a class is graduated from the academy all equality of opportunity for riding, real or theoretical, ends for good."

"Through all the years that an infantry officer is a second lieutenant, lieutenant and captain he must march afoot with his men. Then he becomes a field officer and for the sake of convenience is mounted. But the pace at which he will go is governed by the marching ability of foot troops. His service will never require any very strenuous riding."

"Take a colonel of infantry, for instance, a man somewhat heavy and in a little advanced in years. He can sit in the saddle all day and move with his command, but he can't jump hurdles or ride like a charging dragoon for fifteen miles. That would kill him."

"General Shafter weighed 300 pounds. Down in Cuba they had to lift him into his saddle, but lack of agility on his part did not prevent the army and the public from making a hero of him. Fortunately, there is no man in the army today so heavy as Shafter was, but there are many who have outgrown their rough riding days."

"It is difficult to imagine when officers of coast artillery, who are of course included in this test, will ever have to ride. They will certainly never have to dash about their fortifications like rough riders charging up a hill."

Think of a coast artillery officer doing equestrian stunts down at Fort Jackson, Sandy Hook! The government will have to develop a new breed of horses fitted for fast going in soft beach sand.

"So far as the staff officers are concerned, the order is even more unreasonable. Very few of the higher grade of staff officers are ever placed in positions in which they can keep up their horseback training or in which their work requires riding. Many of them must spend the greater part of their lives at desks. They need heads rather than legs. In fact, one legged man would do very well in many of the places. There is, for example, your ordnance officer at an arsenal. A man to preside successfully over such an establishment needs an equipment altogether different from the hurrah qualities essential to following the bounds."

Some army officers seem to think a man's failure to ride to the satisfaction of the commander in chief of the army and navy or a doctor's certificate that he ought not to try it will be merely a preliminary to an order sending him before a retiring board. There are many officers no doubt entirely fit for the service for years to come under normal conditions, but who would discover at the end of a hard fifteen mile ride that there was something radically wrong with their hearts or kidneys."

GREEN HATS FOR MEN.

King Edward Style Adopted by Returning European Travelers.

Do you wear a green hat?

It's the latest thing for men. Tourists back from Europe are disporting themselves in these creations, which are modeled after one King Edward wore during his recent visit to the continent, says the New York Journal.

It is declared that the fashion is spreading over Europe, and the men travelers count their trip incomplete unless they have such hats as these. The headgear is shaped on the Alpine model and looks not unlike some of the picturesque creations seen in the Tyrol. The ribbon of green which adorns it is wide and ends in a fluffy flourish.

Among those who have recently come back to the United States with the new style from abroad are R. A. C. Smith, who has been visiting Sir Thomas Lipton, and J. De Monte Thompson, who is an enthusiastic automobile. Mr. Thompson wore an especially attractive hat of green when he left the Baltic, and his thin four-hand tie matched the headgear.

Some of the hues of green are very bright and may be seen at a great distance, while others are of a subdued olive. New York haters seem much disturbed over the innovation and declare that it is not likely to spread on this side of the water.

FISHING FROM TRAINS.

Rare Sport Trolling Through Car Windows on the Southern Pacific.

Passengers on Southern Pacific overland trains are having rare sport trolling from the car windows for fish in the Salton sea, and good catches have been made, writes a Salton correspondent of the San Francisco Chronicle.

About midway on the sea an arroyo extends back into the mountains. The track crosses this on a trestle. The water is fifteen to twenty-five feet deep, and it has become a custom of the dining car porter to throw overboard the scraps from the table there. Thousands of fish of all sizes lie in wait for the train and can be easily seen.

A few days ago an irrepressible fisherman prepared his hook and line and as the train slowly thundered over the long trestle swung it far out over the water. This the fish mistook for their customary meal, and a voracious carp three feet long seized the bait and was drawn aboard the Pullman. With this beginning the sport has grown to such an extent that the passing trains are now supplied with fish for the dining cars.

Church Ventures In Junk.

The Washburn (Minn.) Congregational Ladies' Aid society, which announced a few weeks ago that it had engaged in the junk business, is meeting with great success in the venture and is being flooded with orders from all over the country for old scrap iron, rags, waste paper, etc., says a Washburn correspondent of the St. Paul Pioneer Press. One concern has even written to the ladies quoting prices paid for champagne bottles, but the society promptly turned down this request. The money derived from the plan is used for missionary work and for running the church.

Growing Cotton In Massachusetts.

Robert Metcalf, a wool sorter who is engaged in agriculture, is growing a large number of cotton plants, having nearly forty plants, most of them being in blossom, says an Enfield (Mass.) correspondent of the Springfield Union. Mr. Metcalf obtained a small box of seeds from a friend in Texas early in the spring and planted them as soon as the climate was suitable. Many of the plants are nearly three feet high and are in good healthy condition.

Banana Eating Contest.

A banana eating contest is being arranged between "Senator" Jim Walker of Owensville, Ind., and Melvin Smith of Petersburg, says an Owensville dispatch to the New York Sun. A few days ago Smith ate forty-eight bananas in two hours. Immediately following he ate two pounds of bologna and one pound of crackers without water. He was ill for several days, but finally pulled through and is now willing to compete with Walker in a banana eating contest.

AMUSEMENTS

APPRECIATES HUMOR.

Not a few people will appreciate the sense of humor in the following incident occurring in the earlier life of Mr. Lawrence Ewart who is starring in Walker Whiteside's greatest comedy success "We Are King," appearing next week at the Auditorium:

At the beginning of his stage career Mr. Ewart essayed to break into the profession, as it were, by calling upon a certain manager whom he believed would give him encouragement. He was doomed to disappointment, for the theatrical man, after listening to the youthful would-be Thespian tell of his hopes, tried to dissuade him from following his natural bent in the following characteristic words. "You will find it a most unhappy lot, my boy. It is like wearing a high and stiff collar; you always try and smile and look happy while the pesky thing is galling the life out of you."

Mr. Ewart thanked him, but continued to see other managers. His experiences were those common to all beginners, and discouraged, but still determined to win, he again ventured to call upon the manager, who had illustrated with the collar. He was greeted with, "Well, and what have you to report regarding an engagement?"

"Nothing very favorable as yet," sadly replied the young aspirant. "In fact," he continued, "I am wearing the turn down style of collar just now, and I guess it hurts quite as much as the other."

Mr. Ewart has always maintained that it was due to the fact that he made that manager laugh and not because of his personality, that he was given a trial and remained with his collar manager for three seasons. Be that as it may, Mr. Ewart has steadily advanced by unencouraging efforts until he now holds a most enjoyable position as a star. Mr. Ewart appears at the Auditorium Friday evening.

SHOWS GREAT ABILITY.

James Kyrle MacCurdy, actor-author, is being starred by the Rowland & Clifford Amusement company, and no better known or admired player ever visits the popular priced house. This is the fourth season of the world famous play. The story is unique, telling of a poor Hebrew's suddenly becoming rich after a life of hardship and privation; it shows his sufferings, his happiness and final triumph against the villain's schemes. MacCurdy is given full opportunity to display his exceptional ability which has won Broadway recognition. The cast is in all ways complete and includes Danny Dougherty and Kid Sharkey in a spirited boxing contest. Will be seen here at the Auditorium on Saturday afternoon and night.

MELODIOUS SONGS.

"Humpty Dumpty" constitutes a combination of melodious songs, clever dancing and ensembles backed up by some of the most handsome scenery ever seen here. The last grand transformation scene "The Birth of Dawn" was something grand and gave pleasure to the patrons of the Alvin last evening. The entertainment abounds with pleasing diversions, acrobatic tricks, which are mirth provoking. James Bonelli, who takes the title role and in fact all the artists acquainted themselves last night in such a way as to win numerous recalls and stirred the audience to enthusiasm. The girls are all better looking than the average.

MARRIAGE CEREMONY THURSDAY BY JUSTICE LEE S. LAKE.

Groom a Bohemian, White Bride is a Daughter of Highly Respected Hungarian Family.

An unusually interesting and beautiful wedding took place in this city on Wednesday evening, being the marriage of Mr. John Freiberg, son of Frederick Freiberg, a well known Bohemian of this city, and Miss Emma Kondor, daughter of Alexander Kondor, a highly respectable Hungarian of this city, who is employed at the Wehrle plant as a locksmith. The ceremony was performed at the new residence of the groom, 35 North Tenth street, by Squire Lee S. Lake, in the presence of the families and about twenty invited guests. At 7:30 o'clock, to the strains of the wedding march, the bride entered the parlor on the arm of her father. She was beautifully dressed in a gown of white silk and carried a beautiful bouquet of flowers, while a wreath of flowers encircled her head. Upon reaching the center of the room the father of the bride joined the hands of the young couple and spoke to them in the Hungarian language, after which Justice Lake pronounced the words that joined them together.
At the conclusion of the ceremony
a fine supper was served and an enjoyable social pleasure was engaged in. The groom has just completed and furnished a new home at 33 North Tenth street. The groom is a pattern maker at the Wehrle plant.

Coroner's Verdicts.

In the matter of the death of Hattie Bogardus, which occurred September 19, Coroner L. L. Marriott has returned a verdict as the result of the inquest held by him on September 20.
He finds that the deceased came to her death by taking carbolic acid with suicidal intent.

Regarding the death of Charles Luther, he finds that his death was caused by a blow on the head by the clinch hand of Robert Wilson, frakturing the skull.

The coroner also finds that Landon
Osburn who was killed on October 3,
at Armstrong's bridge, three miles west of Newark, met his death by being accidentally struck by an interurban car, while intoxicated.

NEWARK NEWS 25 YEARS AGO

OCTOBER 17.

The temporary bridge that spans the feeder on East Main street should be replaced by a neat iron structure.
The Fowler Boiler company erected a new building to be used as an office.

The watchman of the Blandy Machine Works informs us that one of the Coopers of Mt. Vernon was in the city yesterday examining the works with an eye to starting a distillery.

Matters in police circles have been unusually quiet this week.

Albert Hubbell, employed by John Tucker, the tinner, fell from the roof of the McCune hardware store this morning, a distance of 35 feet, and had his head crushed and his neck broken.
The unfortunate man lies in Zanesville and he was taken to that city for burial.

MR. PIERSON'S FUNERAL

Services, Conducted Thursday Afternoon at Residence—Associates in Office Pallbearers.

The funeral of Andrew H. Pierson, business manager of the Advocate, takes place at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon with burial at Cedar Hill cemetery.

The service at the home, 27 North Fifth street, will be marked with simplicity, befitting the character of the man. The Rev. T. A. Cosgrove, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, with whom Mr. Pierson in life had been intimately associated,
will conduct the service and Mrs.
Charles W. Miller will sing, "I Bring Thee a Broken Heart." Eleven years ago, Mr. Pierson requested Mrs.
Miller, who at that time was a neighbor, to sing at his funeral, and a selection that was his favorite was chosen for the occasion.

After the services at the residence,
the remains will be carried to Cedar Hill. The pallbearers selected from the friends and associates of Mr.
Pierson in the Advocate office will be Messrs. Frank L. Ferguson, E. H.
Franklin, Joseph Zahn, Walter L.
Bowers, Leonard G. Graham and C.
H. Spencer.

The home was literally filled with magnificent flowers on Thursday. One of the most touching tributes was a beautiful bouquet sent by the newspaper carrier boys, the lads who sell the Advocate on the street and carry the papers to local subscribers.

The Advocate office will be closed
Thursday afternoon, and on account of the funeral, this paper is issued at the noon hour.

The American Tribune on Wednesday evening paid the following editorial tribute to Mr. Pierson:

Mr. A. H. Pierson, whose demise was announced Tuesday, while a man of unassuming nature and quiet manners, was possessed of a personality and character that marked him as one of the successful business men of the city. He was a man of moral worth and mental strength, and while he did not pose as a leader in matters either financial, social or moral, at the same time his personality was felt and acknowledged by those with whom he worked and associated, and the following note of appreciation from the tongue of Mr.
Edward Kibler, a life long friend of Mr. Pierson's, is but a merited recognition of the character of Mr. Pierson.

To an American Tribune reporter
today Edward Kibler said: "A. H.
Pierson's was one of the most admirable characters I ever met. He was a rare combination of modesty, mental and moral strength, with exceptional business capacity. Any one who was not singularly drawn to him simply did not have the opportunity to know him. His career was a notable example of exalted manhood and proves him to have been a model man, and I feel that in his death this community has suffered an irreparable loss."

1774—Robert Ferguson, Scottish poet, died.

1895—Edward Orton, Ph. D., LL. D., distinguished American geologist, died at Columbus, O., born 1828.
1904—General William Scott Worth, U. S. A., retired, son of the Mexican war hero and himself a veteran of the civil war and the Spanish-American war, died in New York city; born 1840.
1906—Mrs. Jefferson Davis, widow of the president of the Confederate States of America, died in New York city, aged 80.

Mr. Hamilton, who directs the thoughts of the local Republican party, decided that Dr. McCleery was not deserving of a second term, so he nominated Mr. Randolph. The project required a delicate touch, but Mr. Hamilton accomplished it, having intiled the McCleery people into the belief that McCleery would be re-nominated. The convention was packed with anti-McCleery men, and the rest was easy.

Remember and then remember to tell your friends that all of the names on the Newark School Board ticket this year will appear in a single column, upon a separate ballot without a party emblem at the head of the ballot. The voter must select the three men to vote for and mark an X in the space to the left of each of the three names. Mark

FOR CITY SOLICITOR

Mr. Frank A. Bolton, who is a candidate for re-election as City Solicitor, was born and brought up in Newark, where he is known and highly respected by all. of his profession ever since, meeting with great success. So marked was his legal ability that he was elected to the office which he now holds, and has given excellent satisfaction. A true Democrat, Mr. Bolton has always worked for the best interests of the party. He is exceptionally well qualified for the office which he has so efficiently filled for one term and enjoys a great advantage over his opponent on the Republican ticket.

The office of City Solicitor is an exceedingly important one to fill and no stranger to its duties, no matter how intelligent he may be, can step into that office, and perform its duties with anything like the success that Mr. Bolton has. His life, apart from business, is of a very domestic character, and he is naturally a man of quiet and refined tastes. He has been faithful in the discharge of the onerous duties of the office, and at the same time has been honest and conscientious. The people of Newark will consult their own interests by voting for Mr. Bolton.

NEW TOLL BOARD

Placed in Operation Wednesday Night in Offices of the Newark Telephone Co.

The new toll board in the office of the Newark Telephone company was received yesterday and immediately installed. The "cut in" was made last night and all calls are being received over it now. The board is of the latest improved pattern and is for four operators instead of two as the old board was.

One of the big features of the improvement is that the toll girls will be able to receive calls from 100 of the busiest lines in the city as well as their long distance calls, thus saving much time, as heretofore the local call had to come through the local room and be relayed to the toll girls.

The business of the local company has greatly increased within the past few months, and to keep up with the new subscribers and to be able to furnish the best of service, the new improvements are being made.

Over twenty-five thousand calls are being handled daily by the girls in the local room. To take care of this increase in business the batteries have been enlarged and a new motor generator purchased to charge them. The plant as it is now is very well equipped and the service is satisfactory to the subscribers.

Reed, both of Granville; the treasurer is Dr. R. S. Colwell of Denison university.

The Ohio Baptist Educational Society holds its 77th anniversary during the same week. Its officers are: President, D. E. W. Hunt; corresponding secretary, Rev. A. S. Carman; recording secretary, Dr. H. R. Hundley; treasurer, Prof. W. A. Chamberlain, all of Granville.

Dr. James A. Francis of New York, Dr. Thomas Trotter of Toledo, Dr. H. P. Whidden of Dayton, President E. Y. Mullins of Louisville, Ky., and Dr. L. W. Cronkrite of Burmah, are among the prominent speakers.

Mr. William B. Thrall and Mrs. L. A. Austin of this place have received word from Los Angeles, Calif., that their brother, Robert Thrall, had died in the hospital at that place on Oct. 4, 1907, in the 70th year of his age. He was a son of Dr. B. F. Thrall, who for a quarter of a century practiced medicine in Licking county. When a boy he came to Newark to learn the printing trade with the Bristers. He worked on the Advocate and enjoyed the distinction of being one of the most rapid compositors in the country. He was one of four brothers who answered the first call of his country. He enlisted in the Third Ohio Infantry for three months, and at the expiration of that time reenlisted in the same regiment. He was discharged in 1862 for disability, reenlisted the same year in the Ninety-fifth and served for three years. He was twice captured, and for nine months endured all the horrors of prison, almost losing his life. At the close of the war he went there where he remained until his death.

Miss Ida Wickenden, Denison '07, has been spending two days in Granville just before her departure for China, where she is to be a teacher in the school conducted by the Rev. W. S. Sweet and wife, who made their home in Granville last year during their stay in America. Miss Wickenden addressed the Y. W. C. A. meeting of Shepherdson college, Monday evening, and an informal reception was given her at Shepherdson college Tuesday evening, when a valuable writing case was presented her by Miss Barker on behalf of the faculty and students. Miss Wickenden returned to Toledo on Wednesday, where she was to remain only long enough to gather her outfit together, and then proceed to the Pacific coast next week by the Canadian Pacific railway, sailing from Vancouver by the Empress line for Japan. With her will go Miss Dora Zimmerman, also a recent graduate of Denison.

The Ministerial Association of Denison University at its regular meeting on Wednesday evening was addressed by the Rev. L. W. Cronkrite, D. D., of Burmah. Dr. Cronkrite gave an intensely interesting account of his his trips through the jungles of lower Burmah, and of the way in which the interest of the natives was first aroused by the exhibit of modern inventions, such as the phonograph, the magnet and the stereopticon, all of which are marvelous to the natives. He expressed an intense dislike to the use of the word "heathen," to designate any human being. He declared that the Burmese were just men and women of the same capacities and general characteristics of the white race.

The Festival chorus will hold its first meeting for organization Thursday evening, October 17 at 8:10 o'clock at Recital Hall. Prof. Reginald Hidden will have charge of the chorus, and the evening will be given chiefly to the announcement of plans and organization, although it is expected that a chorus will be sung this evening. All students who sing, members of all Granville choirs and Granville singers generally, are invited to attend this first meeting, even if they are not sure of continuing with the chorus. The privilege of singing the great oratorios and other masterpieces is one of the important features of a liberal education.

At a meeting of the Granville Historical society, held at the residence of Mrs. Helen A. Rose on Pearl street, Wednesday night, A. S. Carman was elected president and Prof. W. H. Johnson, secretary of the trustees. It is expected that Founders' Day will be observed November 17, when an interesting program will be rendered.

Mrs. G. F. McKibben has returned from a visit of some weeks with her daughter, Miss Ruth McKibben, who is a teacher in the high school of Oxford, N. Y. Miss Ruth recently passed the rigid examination of New York state with very high grades, securing life certificate. She is a graduate of '05, Denison university.

A party of young folks were pleasantly entertained at a surprise party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Daniels, near here, Tuesday night, in honor of their son James. Various games were played and excellent music was furnished. All enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

Mrs. Rose, wife of Rev. C. J. Rose, returned Monday from an extended trip in Iowa, where he visited a brother and a sister. Her daughter, Miss Marlon Rose, who went with her in July, will remain for some weeks.

George O'Daniels held a public sale at his residence on the old Harvey Gates farm, north of town on Thursday, at which considerable stock, including horses, cattle and sheep were sold, also farming utensils. There was a big crowd in attendance.

Paul McKibben, Denison '04, who has gone to the University of Chicago, for special study under Dr. C. J. Herrick in neurology, has just been appointed a valuable fellowship in the university. His work will be in part connected with the Journal of Comparative Neurology.

Dr. L. W. Cronkrite, who has been for twenty-six years a missionary at Bassein, Burmah, will speak at the Baptist church Sunday morning.

The Brumback class of the Baptist Sunday school has elected officers for the ensuing year as follows: President, Clyde Ditto; secretary, C. E. Brown.

Mrs. A. A. Akers, who has been visiting her daughter Ruth, left for her home in Cleveland, Tuesday.

Dr. and Mrs. Colwell will entertain the faculty of Shepherdson college and Denison university tomorrow night.

The regular meeting of the King's Daughters will be held at the home of the Misses Cross on Monday evening, October 21.

Mr. and Mrs. William DeFrance, Granville R. F. D. No. 1, left Monday for Chattanooga, Tenn., to visit the historic battle fields, the Mammoth Cave of Kentucky and other places of interest in the southern states.

One of the most delightful events given in Granville this season was the social given in the Baptist church Wednesday evening by the B. Y. P. U. After a pleasant social hour a most enjoyable musical program was given. Punch was served by the Misses Dee Thornton and Margaret McKibben.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ralston of Bucyrus, were visiting friends in the village, Monday.

Thomas Wilson of Columbus spent Wednesday with friends in the village.

Duane Fulton of Newark has been pledged to the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Miss Barker, dean of Shepherdson college, spent Tuesday in Columbus.

One of the best and most largely attended meetings of Altamaha lodge, No. 226, Knights of Pythias, of this place, that has been held here for some time, was that of Wednesday night when over one hundred of the members of the lodge were in attendance. After the regular routine business had been transacted, remarks for the good of the order were made by a number of the brothers, among them being Prof. E. E. Hopkins of Denison University, Bryant Hawke, cashier of the Helron bank; Perry Pratt of Newark; Messrs. C. B. Slack and C. J. Wright, who are among the hustlers and hard workers members of the lodge, made a proposition to the members of the lodge that if they would increase the membership of the lodge to 150 by the first of April, they would furnish a fine banquet. The announcement was received with considerable enthusiasm. After the conclusion of the work a fine supper was served.

IRON TRADE REVIEW

Only Important Sales of Pig Iron During Week Have Been of Steel-making Grades.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 17.—The Iron Trade Review today says:

The only important sales of pig iron during the past week have been of steel making grades, but close students of the market believe that there has been some improvement in the situation and the general tone is stronger. As evidence they point to the fact that at least three large eastern producers have made low prices to complete their bookings for the year, and have taken on about all the tonnage desired without sending the market on a panic decline, and, in fact, without causing a number of furnace interests to lower their original quotations to any great extent.

The tightening of the money market is still reflected in the decreased demand for structural material, but many important improvements are pending and will be carried out if financial conditions permit. New business in sheets is not large, specifications are only fair and competition continues to bring out lower quotations. Some purchases of tinplate are being made by companies which underestimated their requirements, but the amount of business is not large. Manufacturers of merchant pipe are being crowded for deliveries on contracts, but new orders are not numerous.

THE PLAIN TRUTH.

What More Can Newark People Ask? When well known residents and highly respected people of Newark make such statements as the following, it must carry conviction to every reader:

John Lippincott, proprietor of a livery stable at 127 Eleventh street, Newark, Ohio, says: "I heartily endorse Doan's Kidney Pills, and in fact, I have told hundreds of the people that this remedy helped me out of the cemetery. I had a severe case of kidney trouble. I suffered from rheumatism for a long while and had a pain across the loins that almost paralyzed me. The twinges felt like knife thrusts. When I did not suffer these sharp, shooting pains there was a constant, dull aching in the small of the back. At such times I could not find an easy position no matter whether I sat, stood or lay down. My back tired easily, and when I tried to shift about the sharp pains would catch me again. I truly believe that if it had not been for Doan's Kidney Pills, I would not be alive today. I got a box and the effect of the treatment was simply wonderful. It drove the pain from my back and sides and there has not been a trace of any of the symptoms I have described for the past eight years. It was just after I had used Doan's Kidney Pills in 1896 that I made a statement in the papers telling about my case, and I am happy to find that after eight years I can stoop and lift and am feeling as supple as I ever was. I will be glad to tell all I know about Doan's Kidney Pills to anybody who cares to inquire."

INTERESTING SCHOOL STATISTICS GIVEN BY SUPT. J. D. SIMKINS

Extracts Made from His Report to the Board of Education Show Condition of the Schools to be Excellent But Suggesting Some Needed Improvements.

The Board of Education has done everything that could be done consistent with sound business economy to advance the interests of the schools considering the limited funds at hand. The writer has no personal data, except for the past three years, but Newark has had the reputation of maintaining a high standard in public school affairs for many years. What follows under this caption is triennial in scope.

Text Books.—Written arithmetic has been introduced in the lower grades and the complete geography in the upper grades. Changes have been made where texts have been unsatisfactory and vertical penmanship dropped.

Repairs.—The ancient double desks in four rooms have been replaced by single ones. Over a thousand desks have been exchanged so as to match the pupils in size. There were no desks of the smallest size in the old buildings. Now all first grades are supplied with new desks of the smallest size.

A modern closet system, including a teacher's toilet room, has been installed at North Fourth and the closet system of some other buildings improved.

New walks have been made at some of the buildings and old window blinds replaced by new in many schools.

Over $10,000 has been expended mostly in decorating the inner school room walls by removing the old unsanitary paper from them and painting them with pleasing colors.

Supplies.—Several charts and maps have been purchased for the high school; also, thirty-five sets of supplementary reading books, making seventy-five sets in all; seventy-five geographical wall maps, and several bookcases for the grades. The principals and teachers have aided the board greatly in purchasing library books and other supplies and decorations with funds raised at socials, by "Art Clubs," and by picture exhibits.

School-ground Decorations.—The advice of an expert was secured on school-ground plantings. Premiums have been offered for the best kept lawns and 575 shrubs planted on the school grounds.

Buildings.—An effort has been made to keep all old buildings in repairs. Three new ones and one addition have been recently erected. The amount of bonds issued for this purpose was remarkably low considering the extent of the improvement.

The Woodside building has twelve rooms and in all of its arrangements and appointments is thoroughly modern and its architecture is a credit to the city.

The new high school annex, in course of erection, will more than double the capacity of the present building. When completed Newark will have one of the finest high school buildings in this part of the state. The auditorium will seat a thousand and will be on a level with the basement floor.

Teachers' Salaries.—For all grades in the elementary schools, the maximum salary has been raised to $600. In the high school the maximum has been raised from $600 to $760 for women, and from $800 to $1000 for men in the departments paying the lowest salaries.

Manual Training.—The board has introduced manual training in all seventh and eighth grades. A high school manual training class is now in process of organization.

It is difficult to see how the interests of the people could have had a more conscientious consideration or how our schools could have been further improved with the available funds at hand, so far as the board of education has been concerned.

Reports.
Within the past three years, over forty written special reports and recommendations have been submitted by the superintendent on such subjects as, black-boards needed, salary schedule recommendations, what a modern school building should include, suggestions for a high school annex, table of information on our present school buildings as to when built, cost, etc.

It has been six years since an annual report has been published and the same length of time since the rules and regulations have been revised.

New Course of Study.

The board adopted a new course of study which went into effect at the opening of school in September, 1906. This course has been highly endorsed personally by several prominent school men. Hundreds of requests for copies have been received from various schools of the state. This course includes outlines or suggestions on art and artists, ethics and civics, delinquents and crime, besides the usual matter found in such a course.

This course places the chief stress on the essentials: reading, writing, arithmetic and geography.

Changes in Course of Study.—The text on mental arithmetic has been dropped and written arithmetic, combined with mental, added in the third, fourth and fifth grades.

"Stories of the English" is now used for a half year in the seventh grade.

A word spelling book has taken the place of the sentence spelling book.

Vertical penmanship has been changed to the slant and much stress laid upon movement exercises.

Suggestions.
Closet Systems.—The closet system of central should be placed within the building, as there is sufficient basement room for this purpose, and that of the East should be placed within the building, if it is possible to do so.

Several of the buildings should have teachers' toilet rooms placed within the buildings. This is a matter that should not be dismissed lightly.

Play Grounds.—An effort should be made to enlarge the play-grounds at North Fourth, Hudson avenue, and Indiana before property advances further in value.

Manual Training.—The work in manual training should be extended. Sewing could be added now in the seventh and eighth grades. I would recommend this instead of the leather work for 1908-9.

When the annex is completed manual training should be extended to the high school and incorporated in the course of study.

If funds were available a regular systematic course in handwork should be adopted for all the grades below the seventh to be given in connection with drawing. This would require a special supervisor.

Over-crowded Schools.—The West schools are over-crowded and half-day sessions are necessary in the first grade. The West district had half-day sessions and an assistant last year in the first year, and Riverside had an assistant in the first year grade. It seems that it is now time to prepare for further building in the north and west districts of the city. The suburbs have grown away from the school buildings and many children can not be permitted to attend the nearest school until more room is provided. For example: the eighth grade pupils living near North Fourth are sent to Central because the pupils of this grade, who live north of North Fourth building now occupy the eighth grade at North Fourth building.

For 1907-8 the board has furnished this relief to all teaching principals, in buildings of eight or more rooms, by assigning an assistant. Any teacher desiring to visit other schools may do so by requesting, through her principal, one of the assistants to take her school; or, the principal may make the request for the teacher, unsolicited.

High School.

The high school building will be over-taxed until the annex is completed. The enrollment for 1907-8 will be over 500.

Laboratories.—Great care should be taken in arranging and equipping the physical and chemical laboratories in the annex. This is advisable on account of the large proportion of pupils that are preparing for the college engineering courses.

Bicycles.—A large number of pupils, both boys and girls, use bicycles. A convenient room, or shelter, should be provided for wheels.

Growth.—Within the past three years the high school enrollment has increased 64 per cent and the elementary 15 per cent. The per cent of increase in the high school is far in excess of that of the population and indicates that parents and pupils are placing a high estimate on the value of high school training.

Course of Study.—The course of study has been revised. Four recitations a day have been provided for all pupils for 1907-8. This has required additional teachers. All courses now have three years of English.

High School Teachers.—It is unreasonable to suppose that inexperienced teachers can meet the requirements of our high school. It is not unusual for an applicant to state that he would be more certain of success in high school than in the upper grades. A teacher that can not succeed beyond question in an upper grade, should not be appointed in the high school. It has been the policy of the board to secure efficient teachers and this policy should be continued even if salaries must be increased to enable the board to maintain the high standard.

Superintendent.

Within the past year the superintendent has made over six hundred visits to school-rooms; held thirty grade meetings; given thirty lessons to the normal class, made several geographical excursions with teachers and some with pupils; attended the National, the State, and several sectional and county teachers' associations; visited the schools of Chicago and Indianapolis, and prepared 199 copies of a supplementary reader on Early Animals and Early History of Licking county.

Other Employees of the Board.
In all office work, the superintendent has been ably assisted by Miss Mary Haight, the clerk.

In enforcing the truancy law and in affording relief to indigent pupils, he has had the masterful and generous service of the truant officer, Mr. D. J. Jones.

The janitors take an interest in keeping the buildings and lawns in proper order, and faithfully perform all duties pertaining to their positions.

The supervisors of manual training, music and drawing are well equipped for their several fields of work. Reference is here cited to the annual reports of each.

The principals work in harmony with the superintendent and teachers, maintain discipline in halls and on playground, respond promptly and cheerfully to all official requirements, welcome any suggestion that may lead to improvement, are not afraid of work, and are a decided strength to the schools, under their charge.

The teachers are earnest, loyal to each other and to officials, willing to make any effort for the good of the schools, constitute a body remarkably free from personal jealousies, cheerfully attend regular and called meetings, keep themselves posted and up-to-date in all matters educational; give position and spirit to our schools; are thoroughly enthusiastic and earnest in their work, and get satisfactory results. Several have recently secured professional summer normals and nearly one-third hold professional certificates.

No words come to me that can express my gratitude to all persons in any way connected with the schools for their generous and enthusiastic support and encouragement.

Respectfully submitted,
J. D. SIMKINS,
Superintendent of Schools,
Newark, Ohio, Sept. 9, 1907.

RUSSIAN'S QUEER RUSE.

Escaped Notice and Deportation by Landing in America in a Barrel.

Hyman Mosowitch, a Russian Jew who fled to America from the outrages in his country, has had the unique experience of landing on the shores of America nailed in a light barrel, says a Waterbury (Conn.) special dispatch to the New York Times. Mosowitch left his country rather suddenly and while on his way to the United States met with an accident in which he lost an eye. He was informed that he would be deported.

Mosowitch called his friends together, and a sum of money was made up and offered to one of the petty officers of the crew to land the man. The officer, knowing the circumstances, prepared a barrel, and as the steamer was playing New York Bay a boat was lowered containing a barrel in which Mosowitch was safely stowed away.

The sailors pulled in on the Hoboken shore and rolled the barrel off. A few days later Mosowitch appeared in Waterbury, Conn., where his friends were wondering about his safety.

On the same vessel with Mosowitch was Max Goldman, who was informed that he would not be allowed to land because of his defective eyes. He would not take a chance in the barrel, however, and was promptly deported.

BAD FOR WILDCATTERS.

Order of "Stoppers" Will Organize Lodges Throughout Mexico.

The Stoppers, a new organization which is attracting wide attention among mining men, is preparing to establish a number of lodges in Mexico. In addition to embracing the usual fraternal features such as sick and accident benefits, insurance, etc., the Stoppers expect to join forces in promoting in every way possible the best interests of the mining industry, while all wildcat schemes will be exploded, says Modern Mexico. Legitimate mining is a business that is growing every day, and the fact that it has been a favorite prey for the illegitimate schemer has had much to do with the inception of this organization, as it is hoped that by the organization of those engaged in the legitimate exploitation of the industry mining may be placed upon a higher plane.

The scope of this unique organization is liberal, in that it admits to membership miners and men engaged in legitimate mining. This includes mining engineers, owners, mining brokers, managers of mines, stockholders in mines, etc., and in fact all reputable men who are identified with the great mining industry.

WOMAN'S HAIR AS THREAD.

French Dramatist Treasures Trousers Mended With Actress' Locks.

M. Georges Duval, dramatist and author of "Les Petites Michu Veronique," has a pair of trousers which he will not give away, though they have been mended," says a Paris special cable dispatch to the New York Herald. The reason is that the thread which served to repair them is hair from the head of Mlle. Marcelle. The lender is one of Paris' most charming actresses.

During a rehearsal at the Nouveautes theater M. Duval tore his trousers to such an extent that it was impossible to go out. In a short time a theater dresser was found who had a needle, but by strange chance not a thread. Accordingly the lender plucked some hair from her head, threaded the needle with it, and summary repairs were accomplished.

Elephant Fire Brigade.

Bacil, an elephant over 200 years old, said to be the mother of the famous Jumbo, owned by a circus company, saved a man from death the other day, says a Wheeling (W. Va.) dispatch to the New York Tribune. A freight train on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad had been wrecked near Morgantown, and the engineer was caught underneath. The wreck caught fire, and it seemed that the man was doomed. Two sections following the wrecked train having aboard the circus coming up, Bacil lifted the wreckage with her trunk from the body of the engineer, and he was taken out just as the flames reached him. Eight other elephants were organized into a fire department and, going to the Monongahela river, filled their trunks with water and extinguished the burning cars.

Speechless, Heard Funeral Details.

Apparently dead and unable to move or speak, Bishop C. Hooper, a miner of Meadow Creek, Mont., heard his friends prepare for the funeral, says the New York Evening World. Only the distance at which the undertaker lived prevented his being buried alive. He suffered agonies while vainly trying to indicate to the mourners that he was alive and not ready for the obsequies. After twenty-four hours he recovered the power of speech just as the undertaker appeared to embalm him. The shock of his fright was so great that he has gone to his former home in the south.

Fall Styles in Shoes.

Women's shoes are going to pinch this fall, according to the styles shown at the second annual shoe and leather fair, which was recently opened in Chicago, says a special to the New York World. They are to be pointed more sharply than in many seasons and on far from common sense principles. Machine leather wear is to grace rather than comfort, too, but the needle effect is not quite pronounced. Buckles are decreed a fashion for autumn. Some patterns show two buttons and one Women's pumps are mostly of the strap variety.

ITCH IN THE SKIN, NOT IN THE BLOOD.

People With Eczema, Etc., Make Grievous Error By Taking Medicine Into the Stomach.

When your hand is scalded with hot water until it blisters and burns you don't drink medicine to cure it. You apply a healing lotion to the injured skin.

Eczema, psoriasis, salt rheum, barber's itch and other such diseases of the skin cannot be cured by filling the stomach with medicine any more than you can cure a burn by drinking medicine. To cure these diseases you must apply the remedy on the part affected. The diseases named are caused by germs in the skin. Kill the germs and the disease goes away and the skin is left pure and white as nature intended it to be.

That mild, simple liquid, oil of wintergreen, properly compounded in D. D. D. Prescription, routs the germs and heals the skin so perfectly that you can never tell where the disease was.

"No tongue can tell nor pen portray what I suffered for ten years from eczema," writes Mrs. R. R. Latta of Garrison, Mo. "I was treated by the best doctors in the West, but received no benefit. Three bottles of D. D. D. cured me sound and well. Six or eight months have passed and there is no sign of a return. My advice to all is, don't delay. Begin the use of D. D. D. at once and be cured."

We have carried D. D. D. for a long time because we know it takes away the itch and we believe it to be an infallible remedy in the treatment of eczema and other skin diseases.

HE NOW HEARS

Another Well-Known Citizen, Deaf for Years, Has His Hearing Suddenly Restored by the Boy Phenomenon.

Was Given Up and Pronounced Incurable by All Other Methods—Can Now Hear His Watch Tick Two Feet From His Ear.

Through all the years, until the Boy Phenomenon discovered his power would also cure deafness, there was no hope for the deaf and those terrible noises in the head. Science stood impotent before the problem of restoring hearing to deaf ears.

But a short time ago the Boy Phenomenon startled the world by restoring the hearing of deaf people who had lost their hearing through measles, scarlet fever, colds, lagrippe, and calarrah. The first reports were not believed. "It is a fraud," cried the conservative medical men.

But as of old, when the Pharisees assailed the man who had been given back his sight, so it was a week ago when Mr. F. H. Walker was pilled with questions as to how his cure was accomplished and he replied:

"This I know, that whereas I was lame, crippled, sore and ached all over and used a cane to hobble around on, now I am well." When several skeptics went to see Mrs. Capt. Simpson, who was treated for paralysis, she met them pleasantly, but could not inform them how it had been done. All she could say was: "This I know, that whereas I was paralyzed, now I have the use of my limbs."

The Boy Phenomenon stands alone on his merits, and wishes to be judged only by the facts he performs and points with pride and satisfaction to the many well-known citizens whom he has cured the past week, of diseases which were pronounced hopeless by every other method.

The case of Mr. George Falkner of 53 Union street, who has lived in Newark over twenty years, an honored employee of the B. & O. railroad, who gradually has been growing deaf for years, and was almost totally deaf several months ago, after a severe cold, will be interesting reading to the deaf and those who have those terrible roaring and ringing noises in the head.

"To the Public.—Some years ago I contracted several severe colds at different times, and it developed into catarrh of the head and throat, which left me so deaf that people had to shout at me. I could hear the voices of people talking, and catch an occasional word of the minister at church, but could not understand what they said. I also had an awful roaring, buzzing noise constantly in my head. I tried many treatments of different kinds, but never received any benefit and the last year my case has been pronounced incurable. Without any faith and very little hope, I took the Boy Phenomenon treatment, and after I got home I thought I would try and see if I could hear my watch tick, and to my great surprise I could even hear the ticking of the small balance wheel. I am happy beyond expression to say that I can now hear an ordinary conversation, which had been impossible for years. My friends, who had to shout in my ears when talking, are as much surprised and gratified as I am, and those ringing, roaring noises in my head have all stopped, and I can distinctly hear my watch tick two feet away from my head.

"Respectfully,"

"GEO. FALKNER."

He not only cures such cases as the above, but nearly all chronic diseases yield to the magical manipulations of this youthful healer.

Those who wish to ascertain if they can be cured and are able to pay a small price for treatment, may obtain consultation and examination by calling at the Warden hotel any day from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., and 7 to 8 evening.

IT HAS ITS DRAWBACKS.

Why Soap is Not the Best Thing For Disguising the Breath.

"Say," he said to the man in the street car on his right, "you sometimes stay out late nights, don't you?"

"Well, I don't always get home at 9 o'clock."

"And when you do your wife insists on smelling your breath, eh?"

"I believe she has on a few occasions."

"Then lemme give you a tip. It would be one of the best things in the world but for a few drawbacks. If you'll eat soap going home it will take the smell of whisky all away."

"Yes, I think so," said the other after a moment's thought, "but what are the drawbacks?"

"Why, your wife will probably do as mine does. She takes one sniff of my breath and turns away with:

A Vast Difference.

There was never any haste at Aunt Euphemia's table; consequently Dorothy, the youngest of all the nieces and nephews who gathered at Poplar Hill in the summer, had learned what to expect. Everything was served by Aunt Euphemia, and age had strict precedence.

There came a day, however, when Dorothy, returning to the family dining room after a season spent in her room with a sore throat, found at her place a delectable apple pie, so small that it seemed as if it must be meant for her alone. Nevertheless she determined to be cautious.

"Am I?" she looked anxiously toward the head of the table, where sat her awe inspiring relative—"am I to be aunte for this pie, or is it all mine, Aunt Euphemia?"—Youth's Companion.

Financial Genius.

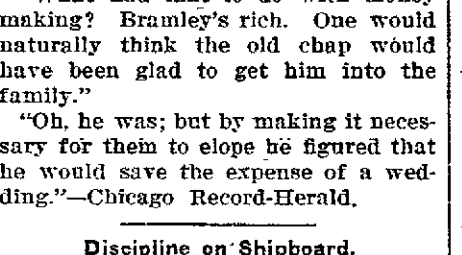

"Some men quickly think of schemes for making money that would never occur to others."

"Yes. There's old man Miggs, for instance. He has the money making instinct all right. They simply can't beat him. When his daughter began accepting attentions from young Bramley what did the old man do but pretend to strenuously object?"

"What had that to do with money making? Bramley's rich. One would naturally think the old chap would have been glad to get him into the family."

"Oh, he was; but by making it necessary for them to elope he figured that he would save the expense of a wedding."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Laziest Man.

One of the contractors in Panama was much annoyed by the exceeding laziness of the sixty native workmen under him. He resolved to try to make them ashamed of their indolence, so one day he lined them up and said:

"Now, I've got a nice easy job for the laziest man in this company. Will the laziest man please step forward?"

Fifty-nine of them stepped forward. The contractor turned to the other, who stood still, looking almost too indolent to stand, and said:

"Why didn't you come forward with the others?"

And the answer came in a weary voice:

"I'm too lazy."—Judge's Library.

Want to Know.

Not long ago a Boston municipal official who is a stickler for the use of good English had occasion to consult a physician new to the community.

After the examination the doctor said, "All you need, sir, is a tonic in the shape of fresh air."

On the Same Old Lines.

"Pa," said the daughter of the house anxiously, "what did you do when dear Willie called on you today to tell you I wanted to marry him?"

"What did I do?" answered her father, with a gleam of wrath in his eye. "Exactly what I do with the rest of your silly bargains—I footed your bill."—Baltimore American.

GRAFT SHOWN IN MARION COUNTY

SHORTAGE OF OVER THIRTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS IN THREE YEARS.

Congregationalists Vote in Favor of Union of Three Denominations. Ohio News.

Columbus, O., Oct. 17.—The report of conditions in Marion county, as reported by Special Examiner Halbedel, covering the transactions from September, 1903, to August, 1906, has been filed with the state auditor. It shows an apparent shortage of $13,470.58, of which amount only $24.60 has been repaid by F. H. Hurr, superintendent of the county infirmary. The examiner says that while the shortage is large, that it has arisen from a misconstruction of the law and an honest difference of opinion as to the meaning of a number of statutes relating to fees.

Famous Inventor.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—David Redfield Proctor, 81, a cousin of United States Senator Redfield Proctor of Vermont, was found dead of old age in a cheap lodging house. He had been in straitened circumstances for several years, although he made a fortune from the sale of royalties on an invention which he patented in the early '70s—a device which arrested and extinguished the sparks from the funnels of locomotives, making the kindling of prairie fires by passing trains an impossibility. In the palmy days of the Columbian exposition he was one of the most picturesque characters who haunted the directors' offices with offers of marvelous plans for enhancing the beauty and magnitude of the great fair.
